

Allied Health Casual Pool Applicant FAQs

Flinders Medical Centre's Allied Health Casual Pool is now open to Occupational Therapists, Dietitians, Podiatrists, Physiotherapists, Social Workers and Speech Pathologists interested in casual work. Below are some of the applicant's frequently asked questions

How do I apply to the Allied Health casual pool?

General information about the Casual Pool recruitment campaign, job and person specifications and applications forms can be found at www.sahealth.sa.gov.au/careers

Click on the Southern Health Local Health Network tile and follow the links to see available vacancies with the Allied Health division. To lodge an application, complete an on-line Application Form.

Applicants are also welcome to apply for specific vacancies at any time using the online application system. Current vacancies can be found at www.sahealth.sa.gov.au/careers

Applications timeline: Applications will be accepted on a continuing basis throughout 2017 and will finally close on 31 December 2017.

What will I need when applying?

- > A current resume/curriculum vitae to assist in populating the application.
- > Evidence of minimum essential requirement.
- > Contact details (email and telephone) of three referees.
- > Visa/passport details (if you are not a permanent Australian resident).

What are the eligibility requirements?

Refer to the qualifications section of the appropriate job and person specification for your profession.

What classification will I be considered for?

It is anticipated that most positions will be offered at the entry level however applicants with significant experience will be considered for employment at a higher level where this has been approved. Entry levels in Allied Health are:

- > AHP1/2 for Occupational Therapist
- > AHP1/2 for Dietitian
- > AHP1/2 for Podiatrist

- > AHP1/2 for Physiotherapist
- > AHP1/2 for Social Work
- > AHP1/2 for Speech Pathologist

How do you select your applicants?

All applications will be assessed against predetermined criteria and suitable candidates will be invited to meet with the Allied Health department head from the relevant discipline to discuss their application, skills, interests, preferences and availability.

It is anticipated that referees will be contacted so please ensure you maintain up to date details of relevant referees and that you have sought their permission for Flinders Medical Centre, Allied Health to contact them.

Is the job and person specification the one for the position I am applying for?

Not necessarily! The job and person specifications attached to the application relate to the most common positions for each discipline. These are being used as a basis to recruit staff for the casual pool. However, other positions exist within the workplace, which will have specific job and person specifications unique to that role. Allied Health professionals interested in specific roles can discuss these during the selection process. Actual job and person specifications are provided at the time a position is being offered to staff in the casual pool.

How long will the Flinders Medical Centre Allied Health Division hold my application?

All applications will be held until the end of this campaign, or until a time in which you no longer wish to be considered for this casual pool. If this is the case, please withdraw your application online.

If successful in gaining employment with the Flinders Medical Centre, Allied Health Division, what will be my conditions of employment?

You will be employed and paid in accordance with the SA Government Wages Parity (Salaried) Enterprise Agreement 2014.
